Third Quarter Results Reflected Industry Wide Pressure on Margins

As we had expected, KS Bancorp reported lower earnings for the third quarter of 2023, reflecting lower net interest revenues from a sharp rise in funding costs. Despite the drop in earnings, the Company had several strong aspects of performance in the quarter, including solid balance sheet growth which was led by loans, sound asset quality that was superior to peers, a strong ROAE of 15.42% (which outperformed the NC peer group median of 11.94%) and an excellent stock performance, as is discussed in more detail on the next page. So, on balance, it was still an encouraging quarter despite the drop in profitability.

In terms of specific results, earnings were $1,431,000, or $1.29 per diluted share, for the third of 2023, versus $2,062,000, or $1.86 per diluted share, in the year-ago quarter. The earnings decline was mainly due to a 9% decrease in net interest income to $4,996,000 in 2023's third quarter from $5,496,000 in the year-ago quarter. Margins have tightened significantly over the past year, reflecting higher rates on deposit accounts, as can be seen in the adjacent chart. (In the chart the height of the line is interest income, the black bar is interest expense, and the red bar is the difference, or net interest income.) Adding to the pressure from the drop in net interest income was an increase in the provision for loan losses, reflecting the Bank's ongoing progress in building the loan portfolio.

Specifically, the provision for credit losses was $180,000 in 2023's third quarter, versus none in the year-ago quarter. The trend in noninterest income was more encouraging, as it was up 10% to $812,000 in the third quarter of 2023, versus $740,000 in the year-ago quarter. Noninterest expense rose 6% over this same period, mainly from higher compensation and benefits and advertising costs.

For the first nine months of 2023, net income was $4,709,000, or $4.25 per diluted share, versus $5,224,000, or $4.71 per diluted share, year-to-date 2022, although there were $312,000 in nonrecurring gains in the year-ago period. Net interest income was up 5%, noninterest income (excluding nonrecurring items) grew 9% and noninterest expense increased 10%.

Deposits and Deposit Market Share Continue to Grow in KS Bancorp's Top Two Markets

Balance sheet growth over the past year was impressive, with particularly strong loan growth. Specifically, from September 30, 2022 to September 30, 2023, deposits grew 7%, total assets were up 8% and net loans increased 15%. As it relates to deposits, we find it noteworthy that the Bank continues to build market share in its principal markets. Deposit growth has been particularly strong in Johnston and Wayne counties, where the Bank has the largest base of deposits (70% of total). For example, in Johnston County, deposit market share increased from 9.66% at June 2021 to 10.8% at June 2023, while

Wayne County deposit share market share grew from 3.7% to 4.6% over the same period. We would also note that these are highly attractive markets. Johnston County, for example, has strong demographics, with projected population growth of 9.3% from 2023 to 2028, compared to 6.3% for the state of NC, and the median household income for 2023 also was higher than the state. A growing market share is often a measure of a bank's franchise value in a market, particularly when the market itself is attractive. Capital wise, the Company is when the market itself is attractive. Capital wise, the Company remains well capitalized. At the end of 2023's third quarter, stockholders' equity was $36.4 million, or 6.01% of total assets, and all the Bank's regulatory ratios exceeded "well capitalized" minimums.

Stock Performance Remains Excellent

On both a short- and long-term basis, KSBI shares continue to perform quite well, significantly outperforming the Company's North Carolina peer group. As can be seen in the adjacent table, the shares are up 12% on a year-to-date basis, 125% over the past three years and 108% over the past five years. All of these returns exceed the medians of the peer group and reflect the Company's strong performance.

The allowance for loan losses was $3.7 million (0.81% of gross loans), at September 30, 2023, versus $5.1 million (1.27% of total loans), at the year-ago date. As is displayed in the table to the left, KS Bancorp's asset quality compares favorably
